Essential oils are the fastest-growing forms of natural and holistic medicine. Essential oils treat the whole mind, body and spirit. They can be applied topically, taken internally or through diffusion. This class will cover the most common oils that can be used every day including learn their therapeutic properties, psychological profiles and common uses. Participants will learn how to apply oils safely, blend oils, and proper storage of oils.

Dana Baars is the owner/operator of Dana's Day Spa for over 10 years. She specializes in aesthetic treatments and nails. She has been using essential oils for over 10 years.
